No if, ands or hearts about it, Valentine's Day is the one time of year strictly designated for the celebration of romance.

But how do you show your adoration?

Candy?

Flowers?

Something a little naughty?

Yes, yes and maybe.

To help that special person in your life, we've collected an assortment of gifts sure to tickle your fancy. Now, all you have to do is leave this article where he can't miss it (perhaps in his car, the bathroom or on top of his pillow) and circle what you really, really, want.

He'll get the hint.
